On a warm and sunny afternoon, Chevady and his girlfriend, Wendy, were on their way home. Since they had just finished their final exams that day and didn't have much homework, Chevady and Wendy decided to take their time by taking a romantic walk in the park.

When Chevady and Wendy arrived at the park, everything seemed to be covered in a layer of gold as the sun's reflection on the pond shimmered along with the wind. Despite the beautiful scenery, neither of them were able to enjoy it because Wendy was busy texting her best friend about the newest movies and Chevady was listening to Justin Bieber's new album. did they chat with each other, nor did they hold hands. It was not romantic at all. Chevady and Wendy were so absorbed in their own worlds that they didn't even notice the obstacles along their path, not even the gigantic tree that was standing right in the middle of the road. Despite being such an obvious obstacle in front of them, they did not take note of the tree and continued to walk straight along the path. Eventually, Wendy and her cellphone bumped straight into the tree with a loud sound. The tree was shook so hardly that its leaves began to fall on to the ground. Even though everyone else in the park was shocked by the loud sound and the sight of a poor girl crashing into a tree, Chevady didn't even notice what had happened to his girlfriend. Chevady continued to enjoy his music at maximum volume and set off on his way back home. When Chevady was about to cross the street, he didn't notice the traffic lights and continued to walk deliberately. Suddenly, Chevady heard a loud screeching sound and saw an angry driver honking his horn. Chevady suddenly realized that he just escaped from being hit by a car.

After Chevady's life-threatening experience, he swore to himself that he would never listen to loud music in public again. Not only was it dangerous for himself, it could also harm the people around him. He called Wendy and they promised each other that they would not enclose themselves in their own worlds on future dates.
