

二. Mrs. Wang, who has a little boy named Andy, owns a noodle shop next to Hsin-Chu Train Station. Her noodle shop is small but always makes customers feel at home so everybody loves to visit her shop. Last month, a busy businessman called Mr. Careless went to the shop with a big white bag. After finishing the dan-dan noodle which he ordered, he left the shop rushly grumbling "Oh! I'm late!" As soon as Mr. Careless left the shop, Andy, who sit beside Mr. Careless doing his own homework, found that Mr. Careless forgot his bag!

Andy and his mom wanted to catch up on Mr. Careless but it was too late. They opened the bag and found that it was filled with MONEY! The first thing that occurred to Andy was that he had to return it to Mr. Careless immediately. Mrs. Wang felt proud of his son and suggested he go to the train station. On the other hand, Mr. Careless found that he forgot his bag somewhere but he could not remember where he dropped it at all! When he was extremely anxious and upset, he saw the boy who just sit next to him in the shop running towards himself with his bag! Mr. Careless burst into tears right in front of the ticket box. He gave Andy a big hug and thanked him for his brave and honest behavior. Though Mr. Careless missed the train, he was still happy. He not only learned a lesson but also made a friend with such a good boy. What a wonderful day!
