In my opinion, choosing the invisibility cloak is a better idea. When I am invisible to others, I can do whatever I like without other people's notice. If I have an invisibility cloak, I would like to sneak into a library and read all the books I'm interested in, and the best part is there won't be a time limit! Since nobody can see me, I will be able to stay as long as I want. In other words, the library is available to me all day long! Moreover, I won't have to be as cautious as usual, for I'm invisible to everyone else. I believe I can be myself and relax a lot more without others' attention.

I won't choose the smart glasses because I think they are not practical. I can see the creature hiding behind the wall, but it's still impossible to get near it. To me, a device that can help me get through walls will be more useful. Besides, making it possible to see through obstacles will disturb my sight instead of helping it. I won't be able to distinguish what's at this side of the wall and what's at the other side of it. I might end up bumping into obstacles and hurt myself. Therefore, I consider choosing the invisibility cloak a better decision.
